LOCAL

—Mrs. J. H. Morris will serve the golf tea tomorrow evening.

—Forbes & McDonald have been appointed agents for Wm. Humbertson's coal.

—The local branch of the Salvation army has purchased a lot on Fraser avenue and will erect a barracks.

—C. H. McCready, of Calgary, has been in Edmonton the past few days.

He shipped a carload of hides to Calgary for shipment east the first of the week.

—Miss Edith Bellamy, graduate of Moulton College, Toronto, will open classes and take private pupils in elocution and physical culture after September 1st.

—Saskatchewan Herald, August 19.—A large scow loaded with scrapers and other railway construction material, arrived at Fort Pitt on Monday last from Edmonton.

—The lacrosse and baseball teams are hard at work practicing for their games on Labor Day and are negotiating with Wetaskiwin for games in their town some day next week.

—Mr. Alex Burke, late of the Queen's hotel, Edmonton, has purchased the lease license and good will of the Imperial hotel in Blackfalds, and will take possession on September 1st.

—A meeting of the lacrosse club will be held tonight immediately after practice, when a committee of the players will be appointed to select the team for the Labor Day celebration game.

—The Calgary Herald in referring to the Grand Trunk Pacific proposition, says, "If this scheme had been proposed by a Conservative government, how many Conservatives would have been found opposing it? Not one in a hundred."

—It is expected that many entries from outside towns will be made for the 100 and 200 yard sprints on Labor Day. The local sports are endeavoring to secure spectators to participate in these events and demonstrate that Edmonton can produce the fastest sprinter in Alberta.

—The printed list of prizes for the Labor Day celebration on Monday, September 1st, has two omissions, viz. Lacrosse and baseball matches. The prizes for these contests are solid gold jewelry to each player of the winning teams. Samples are now on exhibition in Powley's window.

James Fisher, representing the Straford Herald is in Edmonton today in the course of a trip through the west. This is Mr. Fisher's first visit to Edmonton and he is greatly pleased with the great activity and prosperity of the town. He had greatly enjoyed his trip through the west.

—Saskatoon Phoenix.—A number of half-breeds who crossed the border at the time of the rebellion rather than participate in the uprising, have returned to the district and are taking up land. Last week A. Macrote located fifteen of these people in townships 32 and 33, ranges 5 and 6, and others are expected to locate in the near future. The new-comers are apparently in good circumstances.

—C. W. Sutter, Dominion Immigration agent, Edmonton, has received private post cards of the London Immigration office. On one side of the post card is a handsome lithographed view of the Canadian wheat arch in Whitehall, erected by the government of Canada in honor of the coronation of His Majesty King Edward VII, and recorded for the reception of Viscount Kitchener.

—Edmonton Baptist church held a very successful social last evening and most congenial themselves on the undertaking. As announced "the object of the social which might be better called an At Home, was the better acquaintance of all new members and adherents of the church and the object was certainly realized. During the evening a very novel departure was introduced, taking the form of ten different committees with a special subject for each. They were allowed six minutes to talk it over, and then the leaders were called on for their decision. Some very amusing subjects were introduced and caused considerable merriment. Quite a noticeable wave moved the church when Pastor MacDonald announced his subject, Sunny Alberta, with a conundrum "Find the sun." A short program of music, with ice cream and cake was followed by a solo by Dr. Nichols, which was much appreciated, and the singing of God Save the King, brought to a close a very pleasant evening.

—The Edmonton woolen mill is a scene of the greatest activity. The machines are working practically night and day, and nothing but an extensive enlargement will enable the mill to keep up with its expanding trade. Two large broad looms have recently been ordered for the mill as the output of the present two looms does not nearly meet the demand. It is practically only a matter of time until it will be necessary to install self-acting spinners.

Mr. Webster recently took a trip down the line to scout agents for blankets, cloaks, etc., and met with great success that he now has more orders than he can possibly fill for several weeks to come. The supply of wool in the Edmonton district is very extensive, and besides large amounts of wool from the immediate neighborhood of Edmonton, Mr. Webster receives large shipments from far north and west of Edmonton and from various points down the Calgary and Edmonton railroad. This morning a shipment of four tons was received from Lacombe and Wetaskiwin. The wool is of an exceptionally fine quality, more costly and flexible than that obtained in the east, and hence the manufactured article is of a superior quality.

The mill is meeting at long felt want in Northern Alberta and it is gratifying to know that it is meeting with success, as the mill was first established as an experiment.

BUSY RED DEER

Items of Interest From a Growing Town. New Post Office.

Red Deer, August 26th.
The new post office block on the corner of Gaetz avenue and Main street, containing the post office on the corner and H. B. Gaetz, drug store on the front facing Gaetz avenue, is completed. The building is of solid brick and is a very creditable one to the town. The fixtures for the post office were received this week, and when the office is completed it will be the best office in the line.

The roads in the district are now in very bad shape on account of the continued heavy rains.

The crops around here are better than they have been for many years. If the rain abates now a great yield will be obtained.

The streets in the town are in poor shape. A number of them are being graded and drained. Sidewalks are being placed on all the streets where they are at all needed.

Another newspaper is to be started here in the near future.

Settlers are still coming into this district. All like the place and country.

A large stone block is being erected on Gaetz avenue by A. B. Purdy. He will use the ground floor for his furniture store. The upper story will be fitted up for an office house.

The Presbyterian church here has been enlarged by a large brick addition being built to the rear of it.

The Red Deer Memorial Hospital, situated on a hill to the south of the town, has been commenced and will be rushed through as soon as possible.

The public school commenced on Monday with a large attendance. Four teachers are needed this year.

PLEASED WITH THE WEST

The touring British editors are greatly pleased with their trip through Western Canada. A Winnipeg interview contains the following:

"A sharp new present of civility and the richest of futures, might be termed as the sum of the impressions which the British party of journalists which has been touring and inspecting Canada minutely and thoroughly since they docked at Montreal on July 24. When they are ready to re-embark on their return trip to the old country, early in September, they will have journeyed probably 10,000 miles on Canadian territory, with always a host of observations with faithful answers to inquiries prompted in the sharp newspaper minds."

"Canada, to the North Saskatchewan valley, treasures wealthy resources of the most valuable of metals which only await the assistance of chemistry to reduce them to a commercial state. In the message of Arthur Tarrow, of the Daily Chronicle, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Mr. Tarrow comes from the heart of a mining district, which employs directly a million men and, with its tributary railways, practically supports all Northern England, and he is thoroughly qualified to speak with authority on the mining phases."

"The gold obtained in the vicinity of Edmonton from the so-called black sand of the North Saskatchewan offers an interesting problem. Mixed with gold, there are platinum and iridium, both metals in great demand, and of much higher value than gold. Iridium is scarce, about $30 an ounce, if I remember rightly, and is used in the arts and manufactures. On account of its hardness, I understand that, so far, it has been impossible to separate these very rare metals from the gold, and some of the sand may be sent to me in order that I may see what can be done by chemical methods towards the solution of the problem. If North Edmonton can produce platinum and iridium, it breaks the monopoly which Russia at present controls over these metals, they have every reason to congratulate themselves."

"No doubt the methods of securing gold will also be remedied and improved. At present the process is very wasteful, as is demonstrated by the fact that one man can secure from the tailing (waste of another) what the first man has obtained from the original sand. In my mind these rich deposits of precious metals have been brought from the Rockies by passing placers, which had smashed the rocks containing them."

"Neil Munro, the well known Scotch author, expressed himself as greatly impressed by the magnificent country which they had seen and likewise by the hospitality which they had received. He said he found that the extent of territory in Western Canada its marvelous prolific quality and its productiveness over the Old Country, has been in no way exaggerated by the immigration authorities. The enterprising of the towns—the younger the more enterprising—was the most striking feature of the west, from his viewpoint."

"E. Alexander, of the Aberdeen Free Press, was most impressed by the beauty of the prairie after the monotonous had been worn away. He complimented the western farmers on their efforts to better the stock raising and that some of the cattle he saw in the west would have taken prizes in the shows in the Old Country."

Interesting News From a Busy Town. Well Attended Banquet.

Fort Saskatchewan, Aug. 23th.

A well attended banquet was given to Mr. and Mrs. Gourlay on their departure to Souris, Manitoba. Mr. Gourlay has been an ideal manager almost ever since the inception of the Union Bank here and is now promoted to the charge of the branch at Souris. Mrs. Gourlay has been deservedly popular. Toasts for almost every interest were given for and replied to by Messrs. Shera, Wilson Chambers, and many others.

The school managers have been unable to go on with the school building this fall. Uncertainty of being able to procure material and high prices are the cause.

A number of the farmers have commenced cutting wheat.

Work is being rapidly pushed ahead on Shera & Company and Kimble's new stores on Government street. In future the eastern mail will leave here Tuesday morning in place of Wednesday morning, commencing on September 1st.

Real estate is still active, a large number of lots changing hands this week.

Mrs. J. E. Lawrence, of North Dakota, has been taking views of different parts of the town this afternoon. Rev. T. C. Buchanan spoke interestingly in the Methodist church here last night. He and Rev. Mr. Aldridge left for the east today.

Rev. George Spurling occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church here on Sunday evening.

Mr. E. Simmons disposed of his heavy farm on Ross street yesterday to W. McKee, who takes possession in thirty days.

Flowers Cross and Cornwall, Edmonton, were in town yesterday. Alex. Taylor, of Edmonton, is having wires strung along the streets here and expects to install a number of phones shortly.

NUMBER THE HOUSES

The time has come when immediate steps should be taken to number the houses and business places on the principal streets in Edmonton and the names of the different streets should be fastened up in conspicuous places. Recent visitors in Edmonton wonder that in a town of Edmonton's size and importance this matter has not been attended to before. Regina and Calgary are both taking steps to have this done and it is a necessity in these places it is much more so in Edmonton.

—Lee Emery, a well known hockey player of Conjugate Creek, met with a serious accident last Monday, being crossed by a bull and trampled on. He received serious internal injuries and as at the present time paralyzed. The accident would have turned out worse had it not been for the presence of Ed.
